 Seniors Can Drive Safely Of course you want to keep your senior driver driving, for as long as you can. Maybe you (the reader) are the senior driver. Either way, theres a strong desire to keep on driving. But only if its still safe, right? This book is written to help you/or your senior driver, avoid the dangers of the road. It takes you through the whole list of dangers and helps you know what to do about each of them. No senior driver wants to give up or lose his or her drivers license. To not have it any more changes a lot of things. No more independence. Somebody else has to take you to where you want or need to go. This book will help you/or your senior driver, postpone that day. It also has lots of tips for the senior driver to use the very next time he or she drives. And, the good news is that its yours for the low price of $9.99. A senior driver has an extra responsibility. Why? Because in our senior years we cannot do the task of driving as well as we used to. Even if youre still a good driver, many things change when you get up in years. These things make driving, for seniors, even more dangerous. But, be aware, that senior drivers have more accidents than any other age group except new, teen drivers. This should alert you that driving is dangerous, especially for the senior. Per mile driven, the fatality rate for drivers 85 years and older is nine times higher than the rate for drivers 25 to 69 years old. Motor vehicle accidents are the leading cause of injury-related death for Heres a list of the topics with which this book will help you. Motorcycles Pg. 4 We all know that they are dangerous to drive, but this chapter deals with why they are dangerous to be around when you are driving your car. Big Trucks Pg. 5 Where are the four blind spots and how to avoid them; the six other dangers that semi-tractor trailers pose and how to avoid them. Safety Belts Pg. 7 Why it is so important to wear them each and every time you drive; what the risks are of not wearing the seat belt and some statistics that back this up. Intersections Pg. 9 The dangers that are present at any intersection and some safety tips that greatly reduce the dangers of driving at intersections. This is especially true for senior drivers. Roadway Hazards Pg. 10 The three types of hazards and the two things you must do to make them much less of a danger to you. Drowsy Driving Pg. 12 How to prevent drowsy driving and the four warning signs prior to falling asleep at the wheel. Tips on how to keep yourself awake at the wheel.

Other Elderly Drivers Pg. 15 Why they are a danger to others; what to expect when around them, and how you, a senior driver can avoid getting run into by other senior drivers. Distracted Drivers Pg. 16 An entire section on how extremely dangerous it is to talk or text on the cell phone. Then, a section about the many other things that distract senior drivers and why they are so dangerous. Aggressive Drivers Pg. 18 The many types of and dangers of aggressive driving; how it turns into dangerous road rage, and how to control your anger. Drunk and Drugged Driving Pg. 19 What the police look for; how alcohol and drugs impair driving; some very sobering facts and what to do if you or your friend(s) have been drinking or smoking pot and want to drive a car. Crashes Pg. 23 What are the major causes of crashes; how to prevents getting into one; what to do if you are involved in an accident; what to do on curves; how to avoid a head-on collision. Speeding Pg. 26 Why speeding is so very dangerous. General Tips, Driving on Snow&Ice and Gas Savers Pg. 27 Everyone wants to save on gas. Here are some handy tips, plus some other general things that will help you. Lots of General Tips for Senior Drivers Pg. 30 These will help you be a much safer driver. I had planned to write a few poems, and send them and slogans in to the (ATA) American Trucking Association, or maybe the (NSC) National Safety Council but all that changed and turned into this book. I sincerely hope you enjoy and benefit from it. If you get even one-half of the safety tips and use them in everyday life I will feel I have succeeded in my goal for writing this book. I feel this book will open the eyes of a lot of drivers, just knowing the hazards so you can avoid them while you're traveling. Some of the poems contained in this book have a few paragraphs of inspiration. I did not write this book to downgrade or offend anyone. If any part of this book hits home with you, then that probably was its meaning. I wrote this book hoping to share knowledge with everyone concerned. I think everyone should know the plain truth about highway hazards. So, enter my world, and I hope that you get as much enjoyment out of reading it as I had in writing it! Before I started driving tractor/trailers, I didn't know anything about them. I knew they were big, and as a kid I guess I had my share of encouraging truckers to blow the big truck air horns! (From the back seat of my mother's car.) It would tickle me to excitement, the louder the horn, the more excited I became. Then I heard my first train horn on a big truck I was so excited I almost wet my pants! This was about as good as it gets!! As an over-the-road truck-driver, I have been operating a commercial vehicle for many, many years. In these years of driving, I have seen drivers do things that were so incredibly stupid, childish and irresponsible that I am still amazed! Now, to define the word DRIVER, in this book it would be anyone who operates a motor vehicle of any kind; whether car, truck, motorcycle, etc. Everyone on the road, and even some that are not, are subject to hazards from the highway. You do not have to be a driver to become part of a highway catastrophe. Accidents happen everyday involving innocent people such as construction workers, roadside mowers, even people working in their own yards and children playing outside. I could go on and on! No one seems to be safe anymore from hazards of the highways. On, how we all like to live in the fast lane, and we all like to be where we were going before even getting into our vehicle. However, it just doesn't work that way. There is only one way to get where you are going, and that consists of traveling time. One way or the other, whatever mode you get, you will have to travel! Traveling is as safe as we allow it to be. We are in control of our own safety, as well as others in our charge. Safety is controlled by the mind of each person. It is up to you to make the right decisions. Here are a few ideas that have helped me along the way: Above all, keep your eyes on the road, always be alert, this is the number one key to safety. This is very important as your surroundings could change without notice. Secondly, drive defensively. Do not assume that everyone sees you! Always keep a good distance between you and the vehicle in front of you. Never over-ride your stopping distance. You never know when the only option you have is to stop! You can never predict what hazards await you, minutes even seconds, down the road. People, you need to get your minds out of the gutter, and put them back on the road where they belong. The highway is a killer, but as long as you are focused on the road, then it's mainly someone else's bad judgment or stupidity that could cause you to be injured or killed. By being focused at all times you will have the advantage over others' carelessness. You could possibly react quickly enough to avoid, or prevent an accident. Now, you just took a crash course on highway safety. I really hope you will practice these methods of safe driving. It will pay off for everyone that participates. There are things I see on a daily basis that tell professional drivers watch-out, you're dealing with a person sporting a low I.Q.! Here are some of the acts I am referring to as Rush Hour Traffic: Women putting on make-up while driving, laptop computers being used by drivers, and especially now, the cell phone users. If you are one of these people please, you cannot operate a motor vehicle safely and do this! YOU ARE A HAZARD TO THE HIGHWAY! GET WITH THE PROGRAM, PEOPLE! Why do you gamble with your lives, and the lives of others, this way? Do you have a will? Are you secure that upon your death, everything will be handled the way you planned? Are your children going to be taken care of? All these factors should be considered. You could just simply protect yourself by participating in the game of ACCIDENT PREVENTION, and greatly reduce your risk of having an accident. If everyone could see it the way I see it, the picture would be perfectly clear and speaking of perfectly clear, another hazard lies within inches of your face. Your windshield and side windows need to be kept clean as much as possible. The least bit of dirt glares against the sun, or headlights, and impairs your vision. Anytime your vision is impaired, YOU ARE A HAZARD TO THE HIGHWAY!! Maintenance is another key factor to safe operation. You should maintain your vehicle by having the correct amount of air pressure in the tires. If you are not sure what this should be have a professional check your tires. It's a good idea, especially for non-mechanics, to have your car's oil changed at a place where they check all the fluids, air pressure in tires, etc. Many of these places will show you exactly what to do when checking for yourself. Another matter of great importance is your lights, headlights, brake, rear and turn signal lights, or commercial lights, all lights should be checked regularly. You want to know who's on the highway with you and they need to see you also. If your vision is impaired by weather during the day, turn on your lights, especially during rain, sleet, snow or fog. Even if you can still see, someone else may not be able to see you! Think of it as the lighthouse in the storm, leading the ships to the shore, it's a beacon for safety. Another dangerous thing to watch for is the mist from underneath a commercial tractor-trailer. Believe me, I know this can blind you for a few seconds; this is enough time to drift into another lane of traffic and have an accident. The truck driver may not be able to see you either and could even cause you to run off the road, maybe even kill you because he never saw you coming! YOU ARE A HAZARD TO THE HIGHWAY WITH IMPAIRED VISION! One of the biggest hazards on the road, and with all due respect to the Professional Driver, is a tractor/trailer. These vehicles by law (in most states) are allowed a maximum weight of 80,000 pounds; this is 40 tons coming at you! This kind of weight rolling down the highway at 60+ miles per hour is a fatal attraction. What if the driver did not inspect his vehicle and there was a major problem just looking for a place to happen? Every time you get close to a tractor/trailer and ride next to him in one spot for more than ten seconds, you are bringing on a hazard yourself. Now, I'm not telling you this to scare you, but if it does, that means you didn't realize the hazard. In this book are FACTS, things mentioned in plain terms, telling you the truth about our highways and their hazards. Well, enough about that. Now, what I was saying I knew they (the big rigs) were big, heavy, and intimidating! That's not even the half of it, now that I've experienced it first hand. A poorly maintained vehicle of any kind is a hazard to the highway but a tractor/trailer, even empty could weigh 20,000 to 40,000 pounds. This can be a rolling death if poorly maintained! Now, more than 80% of the defects on a tractor-trailer are hidden. They have to be found by the driver during his inspections. And, unless the driver has done a thorough inspection, something

With the exception of modern warfare, no other human activity has destroyed as many lives as driving a motor vehicle. Traffic crashes kill and injure thousands of Canadians every year at an incalculable financial and emotional cost to society—but rather than rush to stem this tide of human carnage, policy-makers seem to accept the ghastly toll as the price we pay for mobility. Driving Lessons takes a fresh look at the complexities of the road transportation system in depth, going far beyond the symptomatic, linear, reductionist approach. It challenges current traffic safety paradigms that simply blame the driver or target "villains and scapegoats" like impaired or high-risk drivers. It takes issue with road transportation system management that sometimes puts mobility ahead of the safety of road users. As one researcher notes, human beings will make mistakes, and accordingly, "the road transportation system must be designed so that people's mistakes do not have disastrous consequences."

This open access book presents research and evaluation results of the Austrian flagship project "Connecting Austria," illustrating the wide range of research needs and questions that arise when semi-automated truck platooning is deployed in Austria. The work presented is introduced in the context of work in similar research areas around the world. This interdisciplinary research effort considers aspects of engineering, road-vehicle and infrastructure technologies, traffic management and optimization, traffic safety, and psychology, as well as potential economic effects. The book's broad perspective means that readers interested in current and state-of-the-art methods and techniques for the realization of semi-automated driving and with either an engineering background or with a less technical background gain a comprehensive picture of this important subject. The contributors address many questions such as: Which maneuvers does a platoon typically have to carry out, and how? How can platoons be integrated seamlessly in the traffic flow without becoming an obstacle to individual road users? What trade-offs between system information (sensors, communication effort, etc.) and efficiency are realistic? How can intersections be passed by a platoon in an intelligent fashion? Consideration of diverse disciplines and highlighting their meaning for semi-automated truck platooning, together with the highlighting of necessary research and evaluation patterns to address such a broad task scientifically, makes Energy-Efficient and Semi-automated Truck Platooning a unique contribution with methods that can be extended and adapted beyond the geographical area of the research reported.
