La maladie d'Alzheimer est une suite de deuils. Pourquoi vouloir parler de cette période qui a bouleversé notre vie ? C'est en partageant ces moments douloureux que chacun vit au cours de la maladie d'Alzheimer que nous pourrions sortir, sans trop de dégâts, de ce tunnel qui est également semé de périodes chaleureuses, remplies d'amour, de moments d'exception.

Shortly before his death at the age of twenty, the young literary sensation Raymond Radiguet compiled a volume of his poetry, composed between the ages of fourteen and eighteen. Presented here, this prodigious oeuvre is notable as much for its homage to classical style as it is for its risque and even licentious undertones: it is, by Radiguet's own admission, an interpretation of "the birth of Venus"; a depiction of the awakening of the senses. Based on the authoritative 1925 text, this dual-language edition also contains Radiguet's foreword to the collection, providing an invaluable insight into the history and interpretation of the works.

Lux est une hybride, mi-ange, mi-démon. Elle a passé toute sa vie en enfer où elle a été élevée par son démon de père après l'abandon de sa mère à sa naissance. Elle ne souhaite qu'une seule chose, pouvoir vivre sur Terre. Pour y arriver, elle décide de s'infiltrer dans la milice angélique où les anges combattent les démons. Ethan est un ange de seconde génération. Il a toujours suivi les règles de son peuple et en tant que chef d'équipe dans la milice angélique, il traque les démons pour garder les humains en sécurité. Ils sont ennemis. Leurs buts sont différents. Mais sauront-ils contrôler leurs sentiments ? À PROPOS DE L'AUTEURE Fascinée dès sa tendre enfance par les aventures d'Harry Potter, Laëtitia Burgun a toujours une ou plusieurs histoires en tête qu'elle doit faire sortir. À présent, elle consacre pratiquement tout son temps libre à l'écriture.

One of the greatest modernist composers comes alive in this illuminating biography, a must-have for musicians and music-lovers alike. Francis Poulenc (1899–1963) is widely acknowledged as one of the twentieth century's most significant masters of vocal music—solo, choral, and operatic—quite apart from his achievements in instrumental spheres. But what it cost him, and the determined bravery it took for his unusual talent to thrive, has always been underestimated. In this seminal biography, which will serve as the definitive guide to the songs, acclaimed collaborative pianist Graham Johnson shows that it is in Poulenc's extraordinary songs, and seeing how they fit into his life—which included crippling guilt on account of his sexuality—that we discover Poulenc heart and soul. With Jeremy Sams's vibrant new song translations, the first in over forty years, and the insight that comes from a lifetime of performing this music, Johnson provides an essential volume for singers, pianists, listeners, and readers interested in the artistic milieu of modernism in the first half of the twentieth century.

Who's who in the West ICS Publications
St. Thérèse of Lisieux (1873–1897) spent the final months of her short life in the infirmary of the Carmel of Lisieux, France. Those who attended her—including three of her older sisters by birth—were living in the company of one of God's saints, one prepared for our times. This volume, St. Thérèse of Lisieux: Her Last Conversations, serves as a sequel to St. Thérèse's autobiography, Story of a Soul. It contains the intimate words of her final conversations with her three sisters during the last months of her life, especially those three critical months in the Carmel infirmary from July to September 1897. Fortunately for us, her words were written down without the awareness that eventually a great multitude of friends of St. Thérèse would hunger for her spiritual teaching. 150 years after this great saint and Doctor of the Church was born into the world, the publication of this revised edition enables us to live in her company and enjoy her holy conversations and counsels. When we read her words with faith, her presence is at our side. She speaks to us directly, sharing her human experience: her joys, her sufferings, her love for God, and especially her trust in him amid her painful ordeal. This revised edition of St. Thérèse of Lisieux: Her Last Conversations reflects the extensive 1992 French critical edition of Derniers Entretiens in two volumes. That very complete and scholarly production has been edited here into its essential elements: + The entire text of St. Thérèse's words collected by the three main witnesses, Mother Agnes (Pauline), Sister Geneviève (Céline), and Sister Marie of the Sacred Heart (Marie); + The testimony of other witnesses when this does not repeat that of the three main witnesses; + Additional words of St. Thérèse as quoted in letters written during her last three months; + Comprehensive indexes of key names, topics, and biblical references.

Santoro elucidates notoriously difficult works by the four "mothers of invention" studied - Cixous and Hyvrard from France, and Gagnon and Brossard from Quebec - showing how the rethinking of images associated with femininity and motherhood, a disruptive approach to language, and a subversive relation to novelistic conventions characterize these writers' search for a writing that will best express women's desires and dreams. Mothers of Invention situates such ideologically motivated textual practices within the avant-garde tradition, even as it suggests how women's experimental writings collectively transform our understanding of that tradition. Santoro makes clear the shared ethical and aesthetic commitments that nourished a transatlantic community whose contribution to mainstream literature and cultural productions, including postmodernism, is still being felt today.

"The land that resonates" is the story of three generations of women, essential elements of an attractive rural atmosphere despite its poverty, which scrape the margins of international turmoil, political instability, foreign intervention, causes of extreme disorganization of their existences. Simone Francilia, Charity, authentic Haitian farmers, cultivating the land, caring for their children, not to mention their men shoulder to honor their dead and their gods. Guarantee of a subsistence economy in decline due to the gradual exodus, they struggle in a climate of economic exploitation, including sexual social. Despite this awkward atmosphere Zette, Erzulie, Lamercie, Altagrâce live bluntly pages heartbreaking love, tender and fierce. These are the true pillars of a valiant people, the wonderful uniqueness of land that resonates far beyond its geographical and financial limitations, since it was the flagship of other postcolonial nations and its epic founders, the emblem of the great thinkers. This is what makes them fascinating characters, spontaneous, wonderful and unforgettable.

Quelle chose étrange que l'amour. Ce sentiment curieux si souvent décrit dans les livres, dans les chansons et dans les films, qu'on ne sait finalement pas réellement définir tant il s'avère difficile d'en fixer les contours et les limites, pour autant qu'il puisse y en avoir. On cherche tous l'amour, celui des films, celui des livres, celui dont on nous parle depuis tout petit, celui qu'on idéalise. On le cherche durant toute une vie, parfois moins, parfois plus. On se rassure en se disant qu'on l'a trouvé, jeune, pour être le 1er devant les copains et plus tard pour se mentir, pour se rassurer ou rassurer les proches avant de quitter ce monde. Mais est-on réellement prêt à le rencontrer, à le vivre et à le faire vivre ? Simplement parce qu'on ne peut pas vivre sans amour.

Enseignante désabusée, Cassandre vit en France dans une forêt Cévenole. Abandonnée par le père de son jeune fils, elle peine à surmonter cette rupture. C'est dans ce contexte qu'elle fait la rencontre de Kuzco, un lama au fort caractère et à l'odeur nauséabonde qui va bouleverser sa vie. Parallèlement à ses déboires, elle croise la route de l'optimiste Declan, un chanteur assoiffé de voyage, parcourant le monde dans un tiny house. Ce bel homme altruiste et sa guitare lui apportent un peu de lumière, bousculent ses convictions et l'invitent à se réconcilier avec ses rêves lors d'une aventure empli d'amour...
