It is not uncommon for children's drawings to end up in the wastepaper basket. Yet these early artistic expressions indicate how children communicate with their environment. From the first scratches and scribbles to the detailed sketches of houses and people, the drawings and paintings of our young ones are significant manifestations of inner processes, containing important statements about their development and gradual incarnation into a physical body.

Michaela Strauss's classic work is a pioneer study that can strengthen observation, understanding and love for the being of the child, both in the home and the kindergarten. First issued in 1978, it is republished here with revisions, improved reproductions, a larger format and more than 40 pages of colour illustrations. 'In its drawings, the child describes for us different conditions of consciousness, which are parallel with those of cultural epochs.' - Michaela Strauss

A White Christmas Brighter Child Draw and Tell Stories for Kids 4, Volume 4 in the multi-volume Draw Me a Story series of draw and tell story books is now available in an 8.5 x 11 inch paperback format and has a new look. It contains twelve fun draw and tell stories on topics such as fairies, magicians, pirates and wolves. Each draw and tell story includes clear instructions and large traceable drawings, plus an informative guide to using the lively and time-honored draw and tell story storytelling technique. Draw and tell stories are simple stories for young children. These drawing tales are very easy to use and require no special materials or experience. As each draw and tell story is told, its characters and objects are sketched onto a single sheet of paper, while children look on. These simple elements build up on the drawing until, by the time the story ends, a composite picture representing the subject of the story has emerged, much to the children's delight. The draw and tell story form of storytelling is great for parents, teachers and children's librarians. Author Barbara Freedman-De Vito has been creating and using draw and tell stories for many years in her work as a children's librarian, freelance storyteller, teacher, and workshop leader. Please do an AMAZON SEARCH for " Barbara Freedman-De Vito " to find all of Barbara's collections of draw and tell stories, plus her fully illustrated picture books for children. Also, you can visit: www.babybirdproductions.com to see samples from Barbara's stories, plus clothing and gift items decorated with
